(April 3 to May 26, 1950)

Reference: Memorandum from Chief, Division of Departmental Personnel, Department of State, to Members of the Federal Personnel Council, subject as above, dated 16 February 1950

1. In confirmation of our telephone conversation on 10 March 1950, the Office of Reports and Estimates regrets that it must at this time decline your invitation to nominate two individuals for consideration as possible selectees to represent the United States in the [REDACTED] as outlined in the reference.

2. There are several individuals in the Office of Reports and Estimates who, it is believed, are eminently qualified to participate in this program and who would find such participation to be of material advantage in their work. However, personnel shortages in certain components and the press of unusually heavy work in others makes it undesirable to consider these individuals as available for detail to such desirable assignments at this time.

3. If additional [REDACTED] are held in the future, this Office would welcome the opportunity of being invited to submit nominations for candidates to participate in them. It is hoped that circumstances will have sufficiently changed by then so as to allow this Office to take full advantage of this unusual opportunity to further the over-all training of its personnel and to deepen their professional competence.
